Screw system - Hidden screw

This is a very popular menu card cover, and not just because of its many possibilities. This menu cover covers everything: there are no visible ropes or screws, ... nothing! That way, the cover gets the full attention and plenty of opportunity to make an impression with a beautiful foil or gravure print on its wooden, cork or synthetic surface. Your guests will easily open the cover which will nicely stay open while they start browsing your menus. On the inside they will find smooth and completely closed passe-partout sleeves. The folding edge makes it twice as agreeable to browse. Almost everything is possible with this menu cover. So the choice is yours!

Screw system - Apparent screw system

The principles behind the menu cover with a visible screw system is exactly the same as in the version with the hidden screws. The only difference is that you show how it works. The outside panels hinge directly on the inside while the cover of the hidden screw version covers everything. This openly sturdy and cool system features all the possibilities that go with a screw system. Only a wooden cover is better off with a hidden screw system. For the rest, you can freely choose between a cover padding in leather, leatherette, many kinds of vinyl and, of course a super sturdy metal version!

If you have an idea for a special menu cover that we haven't seen yet, please surprise us! We like surprises.

2 and 3 view covers - Frames

Give a limited dinner menu, a lunch menu or a card for wines, coffees or desserts a smart and classy touch by presenting it on a double or triple view menu card with frames. You simply insert the paper sheets at the top in the frames. The covers come in several materials such as leather, leatherette and vinyl. This system is perfect for every paper size, both square and rectangular. You can also use double frames that allow for multiple courses, even in a double view menu cover. Thanks to the perfect finishing, the triple view cover opens and closes very easily. The carefully stitched frames make changing menu sheets fast and easy. These double and triple view menu cards are also available in a version with angular perforations and another one with holding straps.

2 and 3 view covers - Holding straps

A double or triple view cover with straps to hold your menu inserts – a system allowing to change your menus in no time. This system makes a small menu look big and classy. It is ideal for a dinner or lunch menu, a dessert, wine or beverage card. The difference with the frame system is that your paper sheets are held by a strap at the top and the bottom of the card. That makes changing the menus very quick and easy. We use extra thick cardboard to give this cover with holding straps extra strength. For the finishing, you can choose leather, leatherette and vinyl. This system is perfect for any size you want, both square and rectangular. The double and triple view menu cards are not only available with holding straps, but also with the angular perforation and frame holding systems.

2 and 3 view covers - Perforated corners

A double or triple view cover with punched corners makes your menus stand out. It gives your cards for dinners, lunches, desserts, wines, coffee or beverages an added value. Without any effort, you shove the pages under the four punched corners. These covers are available in many variants of various fabrics like leather, leatherette and vinyl. The system is perfect for any size of every format, be it square or rectangular. Thanks to its perfect finishing this triple view cover folds very smoothly and the pages are easily changed. For this model with perforated corners we use extra thick cardboard. The double and triple view menu cards are not only available with punched corners, but also with holding straps and frame holding systems.

Rope binding system

The quality of the materials we use guarantees that a cover with this frivolous rope binding system also makes an firm and beautiful impression. The rope binding is excellent for less voluminous menu cards. For the finishing you can choose between leather, leatherette, wood or metal. The interior of this menu cover is quite convenient for the use of a passe-partout, but also for transparent heavy duty sleeves. In short, a user friendly system that allows for easy browsing and changing of menu sheets.

Book bound covers - Frames

If you opt for a really luxurious menu presentation, a custom-made and exclusive way to impress your customers, then the cover with book bound inserts is the best choice. The passe-partout pocket inserts are stitched in the book which guarantees that the menu opens easily and that the pages don't bounce back. The book bound passe-partouts create a very deluxe effect but, because they are bound, you cannot change the number of visible sides. These passe-partout sleeves are made of thick material and is firm and solid to the touch, even with an extensive menu. The sheets are easily inserted at the top of the frames. This systems can also be used for less frequent formats.

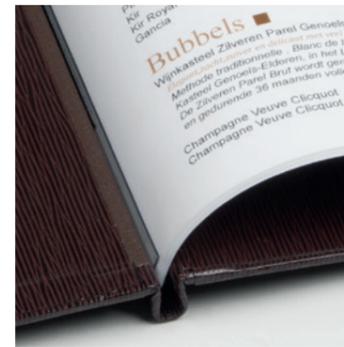

Book bound covers - Perforated corners

If you want a genuine deluxe product, a custom-made and exclusive menu presentation, then the book bound system is your solution. The passe-partout pocket inserts are stitched in the book's spine which guarantees that the menu opens easily and that the pages don't bounce back. The book bound passe-partouts create a very luxurious effect but, because they are bound, you cannot change the number of visible sides. These passe-partout sleeves are made of thick material and is firm and solid to the touch, even with an extensive menu. The sheets are easily inserted at the top of the frames. This systems can also be used for less frequent formats. The slanted perforated corners allows for very, very fast changing of pages because you simply slide the sheets under the corners.

Strip + covers

A contemporary, modern menu card with a practical screw system to hold the pages. The cover consists of two or three elements: the strip, the passe-partout sleeves and, possibly, the covers. That offers a lot of combination possibilities to create a unique menu card. The strip can be made of wood, metal or leatherette. The cover of this multifunctional menu card is made of leather, leatherette, vinyl or very strong and maintenance free polypropylene. An overall print is possible on all these materials. Even if you choose a strip with passe-partout sleeves, without a cover, you get a great menu card in your hands. The polypropylene passe-partout sleeves are available with or without coloured edge.

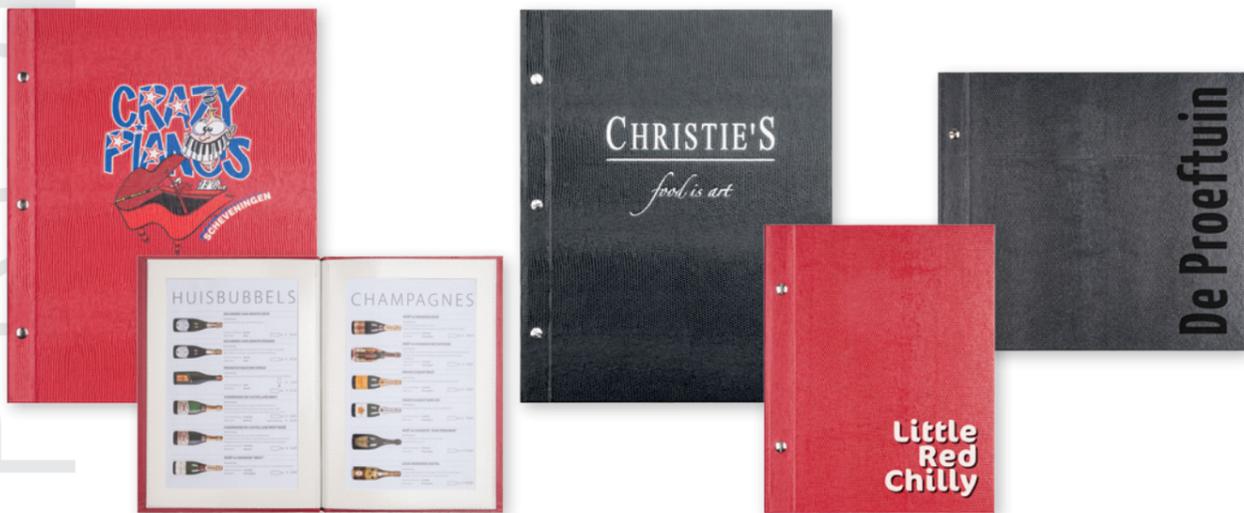

Clamping system

A robust metal clamp is holding the menu together. The sturdy clamp spine gives a firm hold to your pages. This is a practical and perfectly finished menu cover that allows you to change quickly and regularly your menus. We show you five different versions of this cover in portrait, square and landscape, but of course, other formats and sizes are also possible. This cover is available in leather, leatherette and vinyl, but if you really want your menu covers to stand out from the crowd, you can choose wood or metal.
